

Call for Papers

Workshop on Health and the Labour Market May 20, 2022

Workshop on Health and the Labour Market

The IAAEU and the Chair of Personnel Economics at Trier University are pleased to announce a one-day Workshop on Health and the Labour Market on May 20, 2022.

We invite the submission of papers addressing, for example, the health consequences of job characteristics, working conditions and labour market reforms. We also welcome submissions that examine the influence of health issues on labour market outcomes.

We will be happy to include theoretically and empirically oriented contributions into the programme, and particularly encourage PhD students to submit their research.

We plan to hold the workshop on-site in a facility suitable for an in-person event, but will convert it into a virtual meeting if needed.

Deadline for Submissions April 11, 2022

Submit electronic versions of extended abstracts or preferably full papers as PDF no later than April 11, 2022 to goerke@iaaeu.de. Please indicate together with your submission if you prefer an on-site or a virtual event.

Notification of Acceptance

Notifications about acceptance for the presentation will be sent by April 20, 2022. Full versions of accepted papers should be made available two weeks before the workshop.

We will provide authors of accepted papers with details about accommodation and other relevant information about the conference venue at the end of April.

Local Organisers

Laszlo Goerke & Anthony Lepinteur

If you have any further questions, please do not hesitate to contact the local organisers at goerke@iaaeu.de.

Further information will be available on our website soon:
www.iaaeu.de.